

Mo and the Bears.

One day one of Mo's neighbours visited him.

Mo was standing outside his house with a bag of salt. He was throwing the salt over the front of his garden.

“What are you doing Mo?” asked the neighbour.

“I'm trying to keep the bears away.”

The neighbour looked shocked.

“But there are no bears near here?”

“I know, it works very well.”

downloaded at

English Language Space Station.com